since 1992 working in leathers.
the last 20 years have been a privilege, because much like wine leather is one of those things that only gets better with time allowing us to make long lasting products.
one of the things that matters most is textures from fury to shaved, from cudly to sharp, straight to curly... and when it comes to colors mambo goes two ways, one is the naturaly beautiful leathers selected trough a carefull and time consuming process. the other one regards the dyed leathers, those we leave to our criative team that does an extensive research about what colors would be more in in the next season and according to our specificites the leathers are then dyed trough traditional dying techniques.
the beauty of it all is in the combination of texture, color and of course quality, the possibilities are endless... come have a look.
